Another Corrupt Senatorial Bargain in Kansas Alleged

LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 25.—There are fourteen daily papers in Kansas and all but one repudiate the action of Governor Osborne in appointing Crozier as U. S. Senator. It is alleged that the arrangement by which Crozier was appointed includes the election of Osborne to the United States Senate and the appointment of Crozier to the U. S. Judgeship in place of Delahay, whose resignation Crozier takes in his pocket to Washington.

Resignation of the Mayor of Boston.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—The People's Convention to-day adopted an address and a series of resolutions, and adjourned subject to the call of the President. The following was among the resolutions adopted:

"Resolved, That our fellow citizens Judge John A. Campbell, Hon. Randall Hunt, Robt. H. Marr, Horatio Ogden and Wm. B. Spencer be appointed a committee on the part of the people of Louisiana to repair to Washington and present a memorial for relief from the Kellogg usurpation, and restoration to Louisiana of her rights and liberties as a free State of the American Union, as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States."

A Good Beginning for the Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Hon. Richard C. McCormick, Delegate from Arizona, was married this evening to Miss Elizabeth Thurman, daughter of Senator Thurman, at the latter's residence in this city. The wedding was attended by President Grant, several members of the Cabinet, all the Senators now in Washington and many other distinguished persons.

The Comptroller of Currency on our Banking System.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Comptroller of Currency in his forthcoming report devotes considerable space to the subject of interest on deposits and certification of checks. In regard to the first he inveighs strongly against the practice, either by National banks or by State banks or Savings banks, as illegitimate and dangerous, but says as a Congressional prohibition could only be applied to National banks it would not be a cure for the evil. The Controller thinks that the proposed action of the Clearing House in the city of New York, if adopted by the clearing houses of the principal cities of the Union, would do more to prevent the payment of interest on deposits than any Congressional instrument. The Controller renews his recommendation that $25,000,000 of national bank circulation be withdrawn from the Eastern States which have an excess, and be distributed among Southern and Western States, which are deficient.

Their main column, however, is within easy marching distance of the British advance, yet the General is unable to overtake and attack them owing to the slowness and cowardice of his native allies.

THE SHAKE AT JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 23d, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Last evening at 9 o'clock the citizens of this place experienced one of the heaviest shocks of an earthquake perhaps ever felt in the State so far as is known at this time.

I was about retiring for the night, and was in the act of turning down my lamp when I heard a deep, heavy rumbling sound which I took for distant thunder. I stepped to the window and looked out, and was astonished to find the skies perfectly clear. I had not time to reflect before I felt a severe trembling, and an oscillating motion from south to north. My stove, which was standing upon a piece of sheet iron, began to dance a jig, while the dishes, bottles and other articles began to tumble from the shelves, which made things look very lovely in my usual quiet domestic circle. I think the shock lasted a little over a half minute. As soon as the shock subsided I looked at my clock and found it had stopped at just 30 minutes past nine. Many of our citizens ran out of their dwellings into the streets, scarcely able to comprehend what had taken place, but few of them having experienced a shock of this character before. Our sidewalks are now crowded by our citizens, each relating the peculiar incidents which took place at their homes during the shock, some of which are very laughable. Everything is quiet now.

We are having beautiful weather, no rain of any consequence has fallen yet.

AN ALARMING CONFLAGRATION IN LIVERPOOL.—We [illegible] the [illegible] of November 10th: An alarming conflagration broke out in the Exchange buildings early this morning, which threatened [illegible] consequences. [illegible] the extensive storeroom where a large quantity of valuable merchandise is deposited, and owing to the light material the flames spread rapidly. A general alarm was soon raised, and the entire force of the Fire Department was called into requisition. It was finally [illegible]. The damage is confined to the storeroom where the fire originated. The [illegible] is [illegible] known. The damage to merchandise and storage by the water will be heavy.

THE MOUNTAIN EXPERIENCE.—A fellow coming from the top of the Alleghanies to New York in winter was asked whether it was as cold there as in the city. He had probably been at one march [illegible] school, for he glanced at the thermometer. "It's colder," said he, "for they have no thermometer there, and of course it gets just as cold as it pleases."

THE VIRGINIUS!

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Two thousand five hundred men were paid at the navy yard to-day, most of whom have been employed since the news of the Virginius outrage.

The Spanish iron clad Arapiles has not yet left the yard, but was painted to-day, and the last work upon her in the dry dock will be done to-morrow. The work in the yard was going on as usual this afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—So far as the Philadelphia navy yard is concerned no orders have been received for suspension of the work. On the contrary, work is not only being pushed to completion, but fresh orders have been received. To-day Admiral [illegible] made a tour of inspection among the vessels of the yard. A dispatch was received ordering the dispatch boat Pinta to proceed immediately to sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A Washington special says that Government of Madrid declares that it is willing, and resolved, to restore the Virginius and yield to other claims of the United States. It only requests now being that the fact shall be [illegible] that the Virginius was entitled to the protection of the American flag.

The anniversary of the massacre of Medical students of the Medical University, Havana, which took place some three years ago, will be suitably observed in the Church of Santiago de Cuba in this city to-morrow. The massacre of the persons seized on board the Virginius will also be commemorated.

Great Demand for Cartridges.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—The U. S. Cartridge Company will commence this week to run their works day and night. They have pressing orders for several million cartridges from the War and Navy Departments.

Reported Demands upon Spain.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A Washington special referring to the latest dispatches from Spain, says it is authoritatively stated that the demands of the Government are as follows: That the Virginius must be surrendered; that surviving members of the passengers and crew must be restored; that the United States flag must be saluted in the port where it has been outraged; that suitable indemnity must be made to families of American citizens massacred.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Mr. Jennings, editor of the N. Y. Times, after an interview last night with the President and Secretary Fish, telegraphed the following editorial and comment on the demands he says:

We have not the slightest doubt that when the official papers are published it will be seen that the Government has asked for a reparation of this kind with great decision, and not without due courtesy and consideration for the struggling republic in Spain. If Senor Castelar asked for reasonable time in order that the Government might acquaint itself with all the facts in the case, could we refuse it. No doubt an intimation has been made from the other side to the effect that the dispute might be referred to an arbitration, but there are some things which are not adapted to this mode of settlement. Among them is the gross manifest indignity of one great power by another. It is not therefore supposed for a moment that our Government will consent to any proposals for arbitration, at least so far as regards its principal claims for redress. If Spain asked for time it was impossible to refuse, but of course to a reasonable time it must be fixed. It would never do to allow a controversy of this nature to be protracted over an indefinite period. Such limit we have no doubt was actually fixed. If we are not mistaken it expires on the 26th inst., and then if the authorities of Madrid cannot decide on doing justice to our Government, the United States Minister there will close his legation. This of course would not shut the door upon all negotiation, but unquestionably it would be a startling event. The Virginius should have been condemned if condemned at all only before a legal tribunal. Spain has clearly violated the treaty of 1795, and breach of faith could not be allowed to pass unchallenged. It seems very probable that the independence of Cuba will be the result of the difficulty, although we still hope it will be accomplished without war between the United States and Cuba.

Evarts Blabs the Weakness of Castelar.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A special from the same source says a report circulated yesterday of the projected overthrow of the Castelar Government and the establishment of Serrano as regent for young Duke Alfonso was contained in a cypher dispatch received by Hon. Wm. M. Evarts from Madrid and by him telegraphed to New York. After giving the above facts, Evarts adds that the quick succession of events in Spain have proven the inefficiency of the Castelar Government. He assumes no control to cope with disaffection in his Cabinet, insubordination in the army and the struggle of the Carlists. In addition to this power, the priesthood has been secretly and most powerfully at work to undermine the strength of republicanism, and the hereditary oligarchy of that nation has united its strength with the Church to bring about this result.

Gen. Sheridan Gone to Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—At Salinas City today, in the case of Loredo Moreno, one of the Vasquez gang of murderers, Sheriff Adams was called as a witness and detailed circumstances of his ineffectual pursuit of Vasquez and the surrender of Levia Louis Schiver. He testified that Moreno was one of the men engaged in the murder and robbery at Tres Pinos. L. C. Smith, one of the men who were bound and laid on the floor at the time of the murder, could not positively identify Moreno as one of the party, but believed he was one. Deputy Sheriff Chick testified to the facts about the capture of Moreno and portion of the stolen property. Mrs. Davidson, wife of the hotel keeper who was killed, detailed the incidents of the murder as far as she witnessed them. She saw others besides her husband shot, but could not identify Moreno. After hearing her testimony the prosecution rested, and the defense called first Manuel Loros, who swore that when Vasquez and others of his gang visited his house, the prisoner was not with them. This man is brother-in-law of Vasquez. The defence is seeking to prove an alibi for Moreno by him and the other witnesses. Moreno himself testified in his own behalf, and said that on the night of the murder he was stopping at the house of Concepcion Espinosa, at San Carlos, and that early in the morning following he went to the house of Tiburcio Vasquez and found him and three other men there. They were at breakfast and he sat down with them. He denied that he had any part in the affair, and was not present at Levias' house when any robbery was planned. BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 26.—The following letter from Jacob Marhoffer, of Crescent City, under date of Nov. 24, was received at the telegraph office here to-day:

We were visited by a terrible earthquake last night at 8 o'clock P. M., which lasted about 30 seconds and did considerable damage. The shocks seemed to pass from southwest to northeast. Nearly all the brick buildings in the town sustained more or less injuries, among the most serious were the American Hotel, the express building, Sayill & Darby's, [illegible], [illegible] & Co., the Dolphin, [illegible] & Burthold's store and Hodgkins & Chandler's store. He wears at most perpetually upon his [illegible] blandand [illegible] [illegible] supposed to have [illegible] set up [illegible] Judas Iscariot [illegible] the Saviour of the world [illegible] After perpetrating his heartless schemes [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] houses [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Dickens' [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Edwards [illegible] attributed to him [illegible] applicable to the late Secretary of State of the so-called Confederate States of America.

HUMOROUS

All the difference.—The ancients used to inter their dead; the moderns inter their living.

The Congregationalist has seen this item in a late invoice of fashionable New York furniture: "Elegantly upholstered kneeling benches for the weary and heavy laden."

"Have you seen my black faced antelope?" inquired Mr. Doesope, who had a collection of animals of his friends. Bottlejack: "No, I haven't; whom did your black faced antelope with?"

Annie, dear, if I should attempt to spell Cupid, why could I not get beyond the first syllable?" Annie gave it up, whereupon William said: "Because when I come to cu of course I cannot go any farther."

First reveler (on being turned out of the Caledonian Club): "Come and tak a glass at my rooms." Second reveler: "Na, na, ye've had mair than enough." First reveler: "Hoots, tak anither mun. Dinna ye see ye're lettin' yer judgment get the better o' ye?"

A man with some wit and a very long nose met a neighbor one frosty morning, who sang out: "Halloo, Smith! I met the end of your nose back here a piece, and I saw it was completely frozen." "No fault of mine," said the undisturbed Smith. "I rubbed it as far as I could reach."

Sammy was reading the Bible very attentively, when his father came into the room and asked him what he had found that was so interesting. The boy, looking up eagerly, exclaimed: "I have found a place in the Bible where they were all Methodists." "How so?" inquired the father. "Because," said he, "all the people said Amen."

A Hartford bricklayer let fall a brick from a fourth story upon the shoulder of a man passing beneath. The man paused for a moment, and then with a voice trembling with emotion shouted: "Hi! you dropped a brick." The bricklayer, who was looking over the edge of the scaffold to see if the brick was damaged, cheerfully answered: "All right, you needn't mind bringing it up."

THE LAST OF WHACK RYAN

Under the above caption the Helena, Montana, Herald gives some of the former history of Gen. Ryan, one of the sufferers at the Cuban tragedy:

Almost everybody will recollect "Whack" Ryan, for he figured rather conspicuously in several enterprises, one of which was the organization of a quartz mining bureau, which, like all of his schemes, was unsuccessful. Col. W. S. Scribner was at one time associated with him in some mining operation which also failed. Ryan was unreliable, and people had no confidence in him. Soon after his arrival in Montana—in 1866—he accepted a position as traveling agent for the Herald, but held it only a few months. The proprietors found it decidedly more economical to dispense with his services altogether, for he run things on the high pressure system, and his extravagance had no bounds. A man of his prodigal habits would bring ruin to any business in a very brief time. Whack left the Territory in 1868 and went to New York, where he met the Cuban General Cespedes, then organizing an expedition to aid the patriots struggling for freedom. Ryan espoused the cause, was made Colonel and afterwards General in the Cuban army. He never did much fighting, however, for he could always be found at head quarters in New York, where he could have a gay and festive time without the hardships and discomforts of active service at the front. He has never been engaged in any legitimate business since he left the mountains, but he always managed by hook or crook to wear good clothes and keep his wallet well filled with greenbacks. His whole life, in fact, has been spent without a purpose and without an aim. His career has been an eventful one, and if he had been gifted with brains equal to his courage, it might have been a successful and brilliant one. He was a brave but reckless man, and like most men of his character he met a violent death—died with his boots on. Ryan was about thirty years of age and was unmarried.

MAD AS A HORNET

A SINGLE HANDED BATTLE WITH A MADDENED STEER

The Kansas City Times says a Spanish bull fight upon a small scale was witnessed yesterday upon the Kansas Pacific Railway at a small station called Ogden. The fight was in a common cattle car between Major N. B. George, of Kansas City, and a wild and vicious steer, which had by some means been gored and trodden down by the stronger animals in the car.

It appears that a train loaded with cattle belonging to Major George had been switched upon the Ogden side track for the purpose of unloading the cattle and thereby saving the lives of several steers, which had lain down, and were unable, owing to the crowded condition of the car, to arise. All of the cattle had been relieved except one, a large bony "coaster" from the Rio Grande, which refused to get up. Major George resorted to the drover's never failing remedy in such cases—tail twisting. He made several hard twists upon the animal's tail, when suddenly, before the major could escape from danger, the enraged and no doubt insulted animal was upon him, goring and dashing at him in tremendous madness. The first lunge made by the animal caught Major George's nostril upon his horn and tore it up, the horn also inflicting a serious wound upon his eyebrow. The animal was making desperate lunges to gore its tormentor, when he caught it by the horns and was tossed over the car like a straw. Prompt assistance was fortunately rendered, and the enraged longhorn was beaten to the further end of the car. Major George was looking out of the car, glad to escape, when the brute made a last desperate attempt to vent its fury upon him. The steer made a rapid dash at him just as he reached the door and caught him between its horns and raising him up threw him over the fence and cattle chute. Major George sustained some painful though not serious injuries, and beyond a slight disfigurement will soon be as sound as ever.

THE COMING BILLIARD BALL

A billiard player who is dissatisfied with ivory balls makes in an English paper a suggestion which may be worth the attention of inventors. He says:

Every one who plays at billiards knows that occasionally the balls do not run true. They are made of ivory, and even when they are quite new the ivory is not of equal density throughout, and when they are [illegible] external portion much more [illegible] than the internal, consequently the difference of density is greater and the balls, especially when getting [illegible], [illegible] in directions [illegible] the specific gravity of the different parts of the mass being different. It has often occurred to me that a much truer or better ball might be made [illegible] of glass or steel. The weight might be made [illegible] as that of ivory by having a hollow in the middle of the ball. It is well known that [illegible] blow [illegible] [illegible] more truly and more evenly than [illegible] [illegible] gravity of ivory [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] greater than ivory. It appears to me that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] whether it has ever [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] cheaper than ivory, and would [illegible] [illegible]. There is another point to be considered: the expense of the [illegible] I am convinced would be much less in either case. The experiment is worth trying, as elephants are getting scarce, and ivory might be applied to better purpose than making billiard balls.

THE TERRITORIES

The Western Union Telegraph Company has changed the repeating office from Corinne to Salt Lake.

The Colorado Baptists propose to have a "Rocky Mountain University" at Denver as their centennial offering to the cause of education.

Governor Bennett, of Idaho, will proceed to Washington to urge upon Congress some action in regard to Indian affairs in the Territory of which he is the executive.

The Grand Lodge of F. & A. M. for Idaho Territory will convene on the second Monday, the 8th day of December next, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Masonic Hall in Boise City.

The Bozeman Courier of November 7th says that a rich discovery was made near the mouth of the canyon on Monday last by Alex. Campbell and Samuel N. Myers, which yields $1 50 to the pan.

N. P. Langford, upon his return to Washington this winter, intends to work hard for an appropriation for the improvement of the National Park in the matter of constructing good wagon roads through the Park, etc.

The Colorado people have got irrigation on the brain, and the Territorial papers are full of it. If the people there could move their sand plains into Oregon for two weeks they would get enough irrigation to last them half a year at least.

Wheat is selling in the Bitter Root Valley at 25 cents per bushel; dressed hogs at 5 cents per pound, and other things in comparison. Some of the farmers would not take the trouble to harvest their wheat crops, but turned their hogs and cattle into the fields.

Harry Moore was found dead in his bed, in a cabin opposite Wood's old mill, at Bannack, on Tuesday, November 4th. He had been indulging in a two weeks spree, and a bottle with a little whisky left in it was found on the table, telling the tale—died from whisky.

The Helena Herald says: "We have gold and silver quartz mines enough within a radius of 15 miles of Helena, if properly developed, to make this city of 15,000 inhabitants. Give us the requisite capital and in less than five years from this time our prediction will be verified."

The firm of Eckhart & Judge, in Idaho City, made an assignment last week for the benefit of their creditors. Their liabilities are in the neighborhood of $35,000, and the assets are probably sufficient to pay seventy-five per cent. The indebtedness is principally to residents in the Basin.

The Deer Lodge Independent of the 8th inst. says: Messrs. L. J. Robinson and Mr. Montague, of Canyon Ferry, passed through town Wednesday last with a band of fine horses recently purchased in Oregon. Judge Dance brought up a band of 5,000 sheep purchased in Oregon. He left 3,000 on Snake river and brought 2,000 to Horse Prairie, in Beaverhead county.

Richard Mackay, who has just been sent to the Colorado penitentiary for a term of eighteen months, for manslaughter, owns some of the best mining claims about Nevada, in Gilpin county, and is reported to be worth $75,000 to $100,000. His case was carried through all the courts, lasting nearly three years, and was conducted by the best counsel in the Territory. He has spent thirty thousand dollars in the effort to get clear.

The following are the officers elect of the Montana Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. for the ensuing year: G. W. C. T., Richard Lockey, Helena; G. W. V. T., Walter Selden, Fort Shaw; G. W. A. T., Mrs. C. A. Douglas, Boulder; G. W. Secretary, Massena Bullard, Helena; G. W. Treasurer, Miss Emma F. Cooper, Boulder; G. Chaplain, John Cady, Twin Bridges; G. M., George O. Folsom, Camp Baker; G. Guard, W. J. Wilson, Fort Shaw; G. Sentinel, J. H. Bidelle, Camp Baker; Asst. G. Secretary, Miss Cynthia Conforth, Boulder; G. W. D. M., George Swins, Diamond City; G. Messenger, Mathias Dische, Fort Shaw.

The Idaho Statesman contains a full account of the arrest and confession of the stage robbers who robbed the United States mail and Wells, Fargo & Co's treasure box, from the Northwestern Stage Co's coach, about fifty miles this side of Winnemucca, on the 30th of last month. The first one arrested was David Eby, at Winnemucca. He told who his accomplices were, who proved to be one McCormus, an old highwayman, and a man by the name of Buckner, all of them hailing from near Hollister, California. Buckner has a father and uncle living in that vicinity. McCormus was arrested at Sacramento, and Buckner at Truckee, Nevada, each confessing the whole affair and laying the blame on the others, saying he was a new offender, thinking they could turn States evidence or get off with a less sentence.

Mr. M. Meigs, of the engineering party, accompanies a camp sketch on the Yellowstone, published in the Graphic, with the following notes: "The expedition has just returned after an arduous but interesting trip of 900 miles. The explorations have been thorough, and a most favorable railroad line found through a country which at no distant day will be filled with an industrious and prosperous people. The Yellowstone and Musselshell are both fine streams for the railroad, though the smaller stream offers the best line west from Pompey's Pillar, the Yellowstone being on so great a scale that some heavy work, easily avoided on the Musselshell, will probably induce the choice of the latter stream for railway purposes for a portion of the distance between Clenders creek and the Rocky Mountains. The upper Yellowstone is filled with game, as well as the Musselshell valley, and hundreds of buffalo, antelope, deer and even some grizzly bears fell before the rifles of our eager hunters."

While engaged in running a threshing machine on the 13th inst., Mr. John Thompson, a well to do farmer, aged about 57 years, and residing in Upper Weiser valley, near Boise City, met with a terrible accident. While the machine was in motion he stepped to the upper end of the coupling rod, and while attempting to turn some object the coupling the pin caught the end of his coat sleeve or blouse at the wrist, pulling his arm around the shaft or rod, and finally drawing him down and thrashing him around the rod, twisting his left leg until it amputated and uncapped the knee, splitting the head of the tibia or front bone, and throwing the head or neck of the fibula out and a bone from its socket, so that the end protruded through the flesh on the inner part of the leg, making a terrible wound, and tearing every particle of his clothes from his body, and otherwise wounding and twisting him in a cruel manner. A doctor was sent for, who thought him, however, in a fair way, and he will recover.

CENTENNIAL ARCHITECTURE.—At a meeting of the Committee on Plans and Architecture of the American Centennial Exposition, held Oct. 1, to decide upon the four best plans out of ten previously agreed upon for the Exposition buildings, it is understood that the plans of Collins & Autenrieth, Samuel Sloan, McArthur & Wilson, and Sims Brothers were decided upon, but the committee refuse to announce the result until Monday. The parties having the best plan will receive $4,000, and the others $3,000 and $2,000 and $1,000 respectively, according to merit.

OREGON

The earthquake was felt considerably at Albany.

A series of protracted meetings is in progress at Albany, under the auspices of the M. E. Church.

Joseph Luthom, on trial at Albany this week on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was acquitted.

The Albany market is reported quiet; turkeys in demand, eggs anxiously sought after, good butter next to impossible to obtain. A splendid opening for a dairy.

The Republican Convention of Salem nominated John G. Wright for Mayor, James Coffey for Recorder, Joseph A. Barker for Marshal and J. H. Haas for Treasurer.

Jacob Kiblinger, of Salem, has been adjudged insane and ordered to the Asylum. We believe he is the same man who was tried in Marion county last week for incest.

An old man named Scoville made an attack on J. J. Daly, a lawyer at Dallas, last Monday. The Statesman says: "Daly, some time ago, became responsible for a board bill for one Ezra Scoville, which he was obliged to pay. Out of this grew bitter feelings, and on Monday morning Scoville attacked Daly, as we understand, unawares and with a club. Daly was knocked down by the first blow, and his antagonist jumping on him, proceeded to administer rapid and severe punishment with his weapon until caught by the bystanders and pulled off. We believe Scoville has been lodged in jail to await his examination."

On Friday afternoon, 21st inst., T. D. Humphreys, Esq., Deputy for Washington county, organized Forest Grove Grange of the Order of the Patrons of Husbandry, with 30 charter members. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: Master, Henry Buxton; Overseer, A. S. Watt; Lecturer, C. H. Walker; Chaplain, A. C. Brown; Secretary, H. T. Buxton; Treasurer, J. G. Gleason; Steward, Geo. Hines; Assistant Steward, John Sheppard; Outside Gate Keeper, T. G. Todd; Ceres, Mrs. M. A. Roe; Pomona, Mrs. Rose Ann Buxton; Flora, Mrs. Rebecca Kinsey; Lady Assistant Steward, Mrs. S. C. Todd.

James Quinn, a lad aged about sixteen years, residing with his parents near Glad Tidings, was accidentally shot in the head about ten days ago. He was leaning on his gun at the time, his head in range with the muzzle, and while standing thus, his dog came and jumping up, placed his fore feet on the boy. When the dog went down one of his paws struck the hammer of his gun, raising it far enough to explode the cap. The gun, which carried an ounce ball, was discharged, the ball taking effect just forward of the ear, in the edge of the hair. The unfortunate youth was two miles from home when the fatal accident occurred, whether he was carried in an unconscious state. In this state he lingered seven days, when he died, not having recognized any one in that time, nor seen a conscious moment.

A LITTLE WARM.—"I thought you were born on the 1st of April," said a husband to his lovely wife, who had mentioned the 21st as her birthday. "Most people would think so, from the choice I made of a husband," she replied.

TAXES IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

HILLSBORO, Nov. 25, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The County Clerk of Washington county completed the assessment roll for his county at 12 M., November 25th, and placed it in the hands of the Sheriff for collection of taxes. We take the following names, which show the heavy tax payers of this county, outside the O. C. R. R. Co., whose taxes amount to $2,308 26. Mr. S. G. Reed carries the palm off in amount of wealth in this county, leading U. Jackson only a few dollars. Mr. Reed's taxes amount to $448 38½, Ulysses Jackson paying $430 49½. The next comes Ben Cornelius, who pays $335 78½; then follows Wilson Bowlby, $212 27½; Robert Imbrie, $212 61½; T. D. Humphreys, $202 70½. There are some twenty others who pay heavy taxes, ranging from $150 to $200. The highest that comes under $200, is Mr. A. Hinman, of Forest Grove, who pays $190 32½.

In the absence of other aggravated objects to "cuss," Washington county is perfectly willing for "Scapoose" to join with them in abusing the State Board of Equalization, but Washington county can't see the difference between her neighbor's "lame mare," and their farming lands, as neither can be sold for enough to pay the assessment. The only way to do is for Washington county and "Scapoose" to incorporate into a company and stand on their "vested rights."

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 27, 1873

THANKSGIVING DAY

The 6th day of February, 1630, had been appointed a day of fasting and prayer The winter had been cold beyond all precedent, the scant provisions had been consumed—even the corn was gone, only acorns remained—and the Fathers, the Pilgrim Fathers, appointed the 6th of February as a day in which to bewail their transgressions and implore the beneficence of the Divine and Infinite Father On the 5th the good ship Lion, loaded with provisions, came into the harbor of Boston, and their fasting was turned to feasting, their sorrow to gladness, and their bewailment to thanksgiving. And ever since that time, when harvests have been garnered safely in, and biting frosts of early winter remind the dwellers on that frozen coast of the joyful deliverance of their ancestors, the descendants of the Fathers have continued the observance of a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

Thanksgiving has always been considered peculiarly a New England institution. Many think it can be properly celebrated only in Massachusetts and very near the Hub. But however this may be, Thanksgiving, prior to the Revolution, was the only holiday of New England. The Pilgrims were not favorable to Christmas, as it was too nearly allied to Romish practices; and for many years after the Revolution, it was the only rival of the Fourth of July. Latterly, however, even in New England, Christmas and New Years have made good their claim to be recognized as days of festivity. But for family gatherings and homelike rejoicings associated with religious instruction and acknowledgment, there is no day like Thanksgiving. It has made its way wherever New England has sent her sons. Its popularity has, to no inconsiderable extent been a measure of the extension of New England ideas and principles, in politics as well as in religion. It was adopted in New York and the great West only as opinions of New England found a lodgement there. And it may be stated as a general truth, that the people everywhere, who glorified the eighth of January, did not go a cent on Thanksgiving. It is only since New England ideas on the slavery and other questions, have became dominant in the nation, that Thanksgiving has been recognized at Washington. Precisely as Thanksgiving has ascended the zenith, the eighth of January has declined. This gathering of peoples and parties around days and particular observances, is one of the phenomena of history. But we are diverging into an essay.

To-day is Thanksgiving—let us rejoice. We have reason to acknowledge the goodness of the great Father who never forgets his children. The little band shivering in the chill blasts of a New England winter, famished and fainting, have become a great nation. And can Mr. Tyndal, whatever he may think of prayer, deny that what we are as a people, reverent, regardful of truth, believing in justice, strong, the dominant power on the continent, and second to none in the world, we owe to the principles which are identified with, and which make the warp and woof of Thanksgiving, which grew out of and was an inevitable result of a day of Fasting and Prayer. Let us, as is our wont, have a good time. We have cause for thankfulness. Our granaries are full, peace broods over the land, Justice still holds her even scale and retribution follows the evil doer. Throughout the land let us rejoice. We have a goodly heritage and none shall take it from us.

OREGON AND CALIFORNIA R. R. BONDS.

Readers of the OREGONIAN will remember the statement of a Washington correspondent of this paper, to the effect that Mr. Norris, of San Francisco, had gone to Europe to buy up the bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, which are now quoted at nineteen cents on the dollar in the Frankfort market. That statement is quoted by the Salem correspondent of the Sacramento Union. In alluding to it, the S. F. Call adds that D. O. Mills, of that city, has gone to Europe for the same purpose. We are not informed whether Mr. Mills is in the Norris scheme, or whether he is the representative of other parties. It is quite probable that the Central Pacific Company, which has no great affection for Mr. Holladay, will be heard from before his agent has absorbed all the bonds. The German holders are disposed to sell just now But when it is known on the Bourse that Mr. Holladay is intriguing to take advantage of his depreciated credit, there will be something of a reaction. If, however, the Norris combination shall succeed, the Oregon & California Railroad will, within the next ten years, become the best investment on the coast—for the Norris-Holladay ring. It is understood that Mr Holladay's visit to California relates to this business The Government mule claim, amounting to about $500,000, is to be pushed through the Senate with a view to this investment The rate of interest on the bonds has been reduced to two and one-half per cent per annum, Mr. Holladay has his Senator on the floor and his correspondent in the lobby, and all things considered, he is in a fair way to reimburse himself for the enormous sums of money he has drawn from his private purse (?) to sustain the railway system of Oregon If he can get this $500,000 claim, the money could be put to no better use than buying up a ruined credit at nineteen cents on the dollar

The Boston correspondent of the Sacramento Union writes "I saw Senator Sumner on the street yesterday He is a very striking looking man, with his great stature, his broad, powerful face, and his long iron-gray locks dangling over his shoulders He walked along as sprightly as a boy, and evidently was in very good spirits It is difficult to believe that a little more than a year ago the Republican papers of Massachusetts were roundly abusing him, and that the legislature passed a resolution formally censuring him That resolution is to be repealed this winter I hear and I think it will be done by a unanimous vote The Senator's hold on the esteem of his constituents was never stronger than it is now. A Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune writes to the same effect. He says

> 'Scarcely a distinguished man in the State but has formed part of the companies which have met to do him honor by public dinners. The climax of all was reached ten days ago, when at a testimonial of this character tendered him by the Massachusetts Club which is made up of the straightest Republican partisans, Collector Russell, the leading representative of the President in the State, and the chief adherent of Gen Butler, openly declared that the resolution of censure must be repealed by the coming Legislature

Already the contest for the succession has begun It will, doubtless, be one of the hottest, most fiercely contested fights in Massachusetts history. The Boston Republican papers are cautious about committing themselves to either of the two prominent candidates The Advertiser will support Hoar first and Sumner second The Globe leans towards Sumner The Traveler will support Gen. Butler while the Boston Journal tells the Essex Statesman that if he is waiting for Senator Sumner's shoes "he may as well make up his mind to a defeat more thorough than the one he received in the recent State Convention."

The Literary World reviews Joaquin Miller's new volume of poems, "Songs of the Sun-Lands," with admirable taste. It says the new book does not fulfill the promise of his earlier work, though it shows improvement in some respects. The World adds: "It lacks the rude beauty of 'Songs of the Sierras,' and in losing rudeness, has lost force. The longest poem in the volume, 'Isles of the Amazons,' has been cordially praised by English critics, but we have been unable to detect its merits To us it is the least meritorious poem of the collection, its plot is vague, and its narrative tediously repetitious. The finest poem in the volume, we think, is 'By the Sundown Seas,' which, together with many feeble and prosaic stanzas, contains some passages that are truly magnificent. In concluding its notice, the World says "Mr. Miller is not successful in his treatment of sacred or ethical subjects, as witness his poems gathered under the title, 'Olive Leaves' His best field is that represented by his first volume, and by 'The Sundown Seas' in this. In it he enjoys a freedom which he cannot feel in more conventional territory, and which is really the strength of his poetry." By the way, we notice that the London Athenæum continues its vigorous blows at Mr Miller's more sensuous poems, and that his appearance in Hyde Park, mounted on his gorgeous mustang and immense saddle, excited more ridicule than astonishment.

And now comes the Rolla (Mo) Herald to tell us of a storm "unprecedented in the annals of history, which arose in the northwest corner of Shannon and traveled eastward" The peculiarity of this remarkable storm lay in the massive agglomerations of congealed vapors which were large as a nail keg in most cases, but never smaller than a hen's egg. For these astonishing bullets of the gods, spectators have found no name better than the diminutive "hailstones." Our chronicler adopts the celestial simile and informs us that "they froze together in their downward course, and when striking the ground emitted a ringing sound like that of a crate of earthenware let down from heaven." In addition, "chickens and birds were devastated and carried away by the fury of the storm." All things considered, it must have been a rain of terror What with the flying feathers, the hurrying swine and distressed geese, and the heavenly crockery, it was a scene that night, as it did, inspire the Herald with the remark: "the people will ever bear in mind the terrible Sunday of 1873."

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 27 1873

THANKSGIVING DAY

The [illegible] day of February [illegible] had been appointed a day of fasting and prayer. The winter had been a cold beyond all precedent. The scant provisions had been consumed, even the corn was gone; only mussels remained, and the Fathers, the Pilgrim Fathers, appointed the [illegible] of February as a day in which to bewail their transgressions and implore the beneficence of the Divine and Infinite Father. On the [illegible]th the good ship Lion, loaded with provisions, came into the harbor of Boston, and their fasting was turned to feasting, their sorrow to gladness, and their bewailment to thanksgiving. And ever since that time, when harvests have been garnered safely in and home firesides fairly warm, [illegible] the dwellers on that frozen coast of the joyful deliverance of their ancestors, the descendants of the Fathers have continued the observance of a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

Thanksgiving has always been considered peculiarly a New England institution. Many think it can be properly celebrated only in Massachusetts and very near the Hub. But however this may be, Thanksgiving prior to the Revolution was the only holiday of New England. The Pilgrims were not favorable to Christmas, as it was too nearly allied to Romish practices, and for many years after the Revolution it was the only rival of the Fourth of July. Latterly however even in New England Christmas and New Years have made good their claim to be recognized as days of festivity. But for family gatherings and homelike rejoicings associated with religious instruction and acknowledgment, there is no day like Thanksgiving. It has made its way wherever New England has sent her sons. Its popularity has, to no inconsiderable extent, been a measure of the extension of New England ideas and principles, in politics as well as in religion. It was adopted in New York and the great West only as opinions of New England found a lodgement there. And it may be stated as a general truth, that the people everywhere, who glorified the eighth of January, did not go a cent on Thanksgiving. It is only since New England ideas on the slavery and other questions have become dominant in the nation that Thanksgiving has been recognized at Washington. Precisely as Thanksgiving has ascended the zenith the eighth of January has declined. This gathering of peoples and parties around days and particular observances is one of the phenomena of history. But we are diverging into an essay.

To day is Thanksgiving—let us rejoice. We have reason to acknowledge the goodness of the great Father who never forgets his children. The little band shivering in the chill blasts of a New England winter, famished and fainting, have become a great nation. And can Mr Tyndal, whatever he may think of prayer, deny that what we are as a people, reverent, regardful of truth, believing in justice, strong, the dominant power on the continent and second to none in the world, we owe to the principles which are identified with, and which make the warp and woof of Thanksgiving, which grew out of and was an inevitable result of a day of Fasting and Prayer. Let us, as is our wont, have a good time. We have cause for thankfulness. Our granaries are full, peace broods over the land, Justice still holds her even scale and retribution follows the evil doer. Throughout the land let us rejoice. We have a goodly heritage and none shall take it from us.

OREGON AND CALIFORNIA R R BONDS

Readers of the OREGONIAN will remember the statement of a Washington correspondent of this paper to the effect that Mr Norris of San Francisco had gone to Europe to buy up the bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, which are now quoted at nineteen cents on the dollar in the Frankfort market. The statement is quoted by the Salem correspondent of the Sacramento Union. In alluding to it, the S F Call adds that D O Mills, of that city, has gone to Europe for the same purpose. We are not informed whether Mr Mills is in the Norris scheme, or whether he is the representative of other parties. It is quite probable that the Central Pacific Company, which has no great affection for Mr Holladay, will be heard from before his agent has absorbed all the bonds. The German holders are disposed to sell just now. But when it is known on the Bourse that Mr Holladay is intriguing to take advantage of his depreciated credit there will be something of a reaction. If however the Norris combination shall succeed, the Oregon & California Railroad will within the next ten years become the best investment on the coast for the Norris Holladay ring. It is understood that Mr Holladay's visit to California relates to this business. The Government mule claim, amounting to about $800,000, is to be pushed through the Senate with a view to this investment. The rate of interest on the bonds has been reduced to two and one half per cent per annum. Mr Holladay has his Senator on the floor and his correspondent in the lobby, and all this is considered [illegible] to reimburse himself for the enormous sums of money he has drawn from his private purse to sustain the railway system of Oregon. [illegible] nineteen cents on the dollar.

The [illegible] Union writes [illegible] Senator [illegible] street yesterday. He is a very [illegible] man with [illegible] and his long iron-gray locks dangling over his shoulders. He walked along as sprightly as a boy and evidently was in very good spirits. It is difficult to believe that [illegible] more than a year ago the Republican papers of Massachusetts were roundly abusing him and that the legislature passed resolutions formally censuring him. That [illegible] repealed this winter [illegible] by a committee [illegible]. The Senate [illegible] hold on the esteem [illegible] stronger than it is now. A Boston correspondent of the New York [illegible] writes to the same effect. He says:

Scarcely a distinguished man in the State but has formed part of the companies which have met to do him honor by public dinners. The climax of all was reached ten days ago, when a testimonial of this character was tendered him by the Massachusetts Club, which is made up of the straightest Republican partisans. Governor Russell, the leading representative of the President in the State, and the chief adherent of Gen Butler, openly declared that the resolution of censure must be repealed by the coming Legislature.

Already the contest for the succession has begun. It will doubtless be one of the hottest, most fiercely contested that has been in Massachusetts history. The Boston Republican papers are [illegible] committing themselves to either of the two prominent candidates. The [illegible] will support Hoar first [illegible] The [illegible] leans towards Sumner. The [illegible] will support Gen Butler, while the Boston [illegible] tells the Essex statesman that if he is waiting for Senator Sumner's shoes he may as well make up his mind to a defeat more thorough than the one he received in the recent State Convention.

The [illegible] World reviews Joaquin Miller's new volume of poems, "Songs of the Sun Lands," with admirable taste. It says the new book does not fulfill the promise of his earlier work, though it shows improvement in some respects. The World adds: It lacks the rude beauty of "Songs of the Sierras," and [illegible] has lost force. The longest poem in the volume, "Isles of the Amazons," has been cordially praised by English critics, but we have been unable to detect its merits. To us it is the least meritorious poem of the collection; its plot is vague and its narrative tediously repetitious. The finest poem in the volume, we think, is "By the Sundown Seas," which together with many feeble and prosaic stanzas contains some passages that are truly magnificent. In concluding its notice the World says: Mr Miller is not successful in his treatment of sacred or ethical subjects, as witness his poems gathered under the title "Olive Leaves." His best work is that represented by his first volume and by "The Sundown Seas" in this. In it he enjoys a freedom which he cannot feel in more conventional territory, and which is really the strength of his poetry. By the way, we notice that the London Athenæum continues its vigorous blows at Mr Miller's more sensuous poems, and that his appearance in Hyde Park mounted on his gorgeous mustang and immense saddle excited more ridicule than astonishment.

And now comes the Rolla (Mo) Herald to tell us of a storm unprecedented in the annals of history, which arose in the northwest corner of Shannon and traveled eastward. The peculiarity of this remarkable storm lay in the massive agglomerations of congealed vapors, which were large as a nail keg in most cases, but never smaller than a hen's egg. For these astonishing bullets of the gods spectators have found no name better than the diminutive hailstones. Our chronicler adopts the celestial simile and informs us that "they froze together in their downward course, and when striking the ground emitted a ringing sound like that of a crate of earthenware let down from heaven. In addition chickens and birds were devastated and carried away by the fury of the storm." All things considered, it must have been a rain of terror. What with the flying feathers, the hurrying swine and distressed geese, and the heavenly crockery, it was a scene that might, as it did, inspire the Herald with the remark, "the people will ever bear in mind the terrible Sunday of 1873."

CITY.

NO PAPER

To-day being Thanksgiving, there will be no paper issued from this office to-morrow morning.

ALMOST A FATAL COLLISION.—A collision occurred yesterday on the westside train which came nearly proving fatal to Mr W H Butts the well known Street Contractor. It was a collision between two sets of dirt cars. An unballasted car had by accident run down the grade [illegible] the switch and on to the main track. [illegible] application of brakes [illegible] halt it was near a sharp curve in the [illegible]. As the returning empty train was expected every moment a man was sent down the track to notify the engineer. But the approaching train was much nearer than was expected and before the engineer could be signaled the train shot like an arrow around the sharp bend. Mr Butts was in the first empty car. He did not perceive the loaded train [illegible] within a few hundred feet as the fog at the time was very heavy and instantly the engineer was given the signal to stop the engine was reversed and the brakes vigorously applied but it was too late to check the train in time to avoid a collision. With a thundering crash the cars met. Three of the empty cars were broken up and hurled down a steep embankment and the cowcatcher of the [illegible] was broken to pieces. Mr Butts [illegible] out of the collision was thrown [illegible] in the right side at a distance of about twenty feet. He was considerably bruised and the right hip and thigh severely injured. None of his injuries are thought to be of an internal nature. He was knocked senseless by the violent concussion, and remained in that state for some time after the accident. No other person was injured. Had Mr Butts been thrown out on the other side of the track he would have been instantly killed as he would have fallen a distance of nearly sixty feet.

IN AID OF THE HOME.—Should our citizens be called on to-day by some genially disposed persons who will travel in an express wagon and stop at nearly every house in the city no surprise need be manifested and no alarm felt. This cortege which will set out to canvass our city about 9 A M will be composed of working friends of The Home an institution in Portland for the relief of the poor and the object of which is well understood by our citizens. They will call on the people for contributions of such articles as can be used with advantage at The Home whether of money provisions clothing and all gifts will be thankfully received and carefully applied to the relief of such persons as misfortune may throw under the shelter of this charitable institution. We trust that these solicitors will be charitably met at every house where plenty reigns, and that our people will not in their remembrance of past blessings, forget those to whom a kind Providence has not been so lavish in the bestowal of blessings.

CONFERENCE CAMP GROUND.—We learn from the Advocate that Messrs Izer, Roork and Miller of the Conference Camp Ground Committee went up to Canby last week and superintended the setting out of upwards of 5 000 locust shade trees in the avenues and walks of the ground. Private individuals are also having shade trees set out, and in a few years that 40 acres will be one of the shadiest coolest and pleasantest places that one can find in the summer time. Even now in the summer the shade afforded by the native trees on the banks of the Molalla, is sufficient for quite a large gathering and it is probable that a number of cheap frame cottages will be erected there in the spring. Several lots and blocks have been sold during the week and as conference is to be held in Portland next year it is proposed to have a good Conference camp meeting there at that time.

DEATH OF CAPT DODGE.—Captain Alexander Dodge, an old and well known citizen of Portland, died in this city yesterday about noon. The deceased came to this coast in an early day. He arrived in California in 1849 and the following summer came to Portland. He arrived here in the little schooner Mathew Vassar, of which craft he was captain. This vessel was engaged for several years, while under his command in coasting between this port and San Francisco and this port and the Sandwich Islands. After leaving this business Captain Dodge settled down in Portland where he has since resided permanently. Deceased was born in Middlebury Schoharie county, New York, and at the time of his death was in his 47th year. He was a member of Columbian No. 3 and in respect to his memory the flag over the engine house was displayed at half mast.

IMPORTANT DECISION AFFIRMED.—In the Chicago Legal News of the 15th inst we observe the following proceedings transacted in the Supreme Court of the United States on Monday 10th inst: "No 61, Lewis M Starr vs Benjamin Stark. No 62, Charles P Bacon et al vs Benjamin Stark. In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Oregon. Justice Clifford announced the decision of the Court affirming the judgments of the Circuit Court with costs upon the authority of Stark vs Starrs 6 Wall 402." This final disposition of the questions in litigation was affirmatory of the decision rendered by His Honor Judge Deady, from which an appeal was taken. The property in dispute is quite valuable being a part of block 81 on the levee.

DEATH OF MRS LEVY.—A private letter has been received in this city from Miss Levy, dated Zabern in Alsace France which conveys the sad intelligence that her mother died on the 22d of October after a lingering illness of many months. Miss Levy, it will be remembered was teacher of French and German in the Portland Academy and Female Seminary. On receiving news of her mother's illness, she started immediately for France and was permitted for five months to minister to her dying wants. Many are the friends of Miss Levy who will sympathise with her and her relatives in this their sad bereavement.

A THIEF CAPTURED.—An old celestial was observed walking about the Steamship Company's dock yesterday and casting furtive glances to the right and left to ascertain whether or not he was watched. [illegible] man perceived the somewhat suspicious movement [illegible] thought he would [illegible] his vigilance was soon rewarded [illegible] the old thief in [illegible] stealing an iron bolt and some [illegible] from a broken box. John was placed under arrest [illegible] an officer was sent for who lodged him in the city jail to await trial.

IMMIGRANTS.—By the [illegible] there arrived Mr Henchey [illegible] directly from St Louis Missouri. We learn these gentlemen come here with the intention of making Oregon their permanent home. They [illegible] that the immigration from Missouri [illegible] North Pacific coast is becoming very [illegible] that it will consist principally of [illegible] people who will come with [illegible] homestead [illegible] taking permanent homes [illegible]

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.—There will be [illegible] giving services in the Unitarian Church to-day at 11 o'clock with a sermon by the pastor.

LAST EXHIBITION.—The second exhibition of Reed's Panorama was given last evening at Oro Fino Theater. Messrs Towl & Hawkins intended to start this morning for the Dalles to give several exhibitions at that place. They were prevented from so doing, however as the boat will not go up the river to-day. That being the case an exhibition will be given at the Theater this evening which will most positively be the last.

This young lady is reported to be a very competent and efficient instructor.

THE RESULT OF ADVERTISING.—We yesterday saw Mr S J McCormick mail a large number of the Oregon Hand Book addressed to different persons in various States. Upon inquiry we learned that Mr McCormick has his book advertised in about forty different papers east and west hence the result.

VACCINATION STATISTICS.

The following communication was read last evening before the Common Council which, for the purpose of general information we publish:

To the Board of Health of the Common Council of the City of Portland:—GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to report as follows: That on the 18th of August in accordance with your appointment I commenced to vaccinate such persons as called at the office for that purpose and continued until fear of the epidemic was over and applicants ceased to call. I believe this action of the Board of Health has contributed materially in preventing the spread of the disease.

I include in my report the results so far as I have been able to obtain them. I regret that I have not been able on account of the failure of so large a number to report to make my account more satisfactory but sufficient is shown to indicate the importance of vaccination.

PERSONAL

We are pained to announce that Rev Gustavus Hines of the Oregon Methodist Conference is now lying at his home in Salem hopelessly ill with little prospect of recovery. Mr Hines is one of the earliest pioneer preachers who immigrated to this State more than a quarter of a century ago. He has constantly resided in Oregon for upwards of 20 years. For many long years he has been a steadfast faithful standard bearer of the Cross in religion which he was among the first to plant on these shores. Few ministers of the gospel are better known throughout the Northwest than Mr Hines and few enjoy a more general confidence or are more generally loved. All will unite in wishing him a speedy [illegible] deserved.

COMMON COUNCIL

REGULAR MEETING NOVEMBER 26, 1873

The Common Council of the city of Portland met pursuant to ordinance. His Honor Mayor Failing presiding. Chief Tappan in attending.

Members present—Messrs Burton, Caywood Lyon Moreland Russell and Story.

Absent—Hill.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE MAYOR

A communication was read from His Honor the Mayor vetoing the ordinance entitled "An ordinance defining the duties powers and compensation of the officers constituting the Street Department."

To the Honorable the Common Council:

I herewith return "An ordinance defining the duties powers and compensation of the officers constituting the Street Department."

While I approve of the main provisions of the ordinance I object to the delay in its operation as provided in Section 1 which was added to the ordinance after being reported by the committee. The Section named provides that it shall take effect on the 1st of July 1874.

In several communications which I have made to your body I have recommended substantially what is provided by this ordinance. It has been clearly demonstrated that its passage would do away with superfluous officials and greatly lessen expenditure. The Council has sanctioned this view by its unanimous passage. If this reform is really intended why not inaugurate it at once? Why postpone its operations for more than seven months? I can imagine no other reason for this postponement than that the Council is of opinion that the existing condition of affairs should not be changed during the current year—that there is an implied obligation on the part of the Council to keep as many officials or deputies in service and at as large salaries as are now paid without any regard to the necessity of their employment or the expense to the tax payers.

I most respectfully but decidedly dissent from any such view of the case. I believe that the salaries of all officers or employes whose compensation is paid by city ordinance may be increased or reduced at any time and that whenever it is evident to the Council that any salaries are exorbitant for the services rendered or that any employes can be dispensed with it is the duty of the Council as guardians of the public moneys to reduce such salaries or dismiss such employes as the case may be. It is certainly a gross injustice to the tax payers to tolerate for seven months longer a system which the Council in passing this ordinance admits to be extravagant.

In returning this ordinance I perform a most disagreeable duty. This ordinance or its subject matter in other forms has been fully discussed. I have declined heretofore to approve ordinances fixing salaries of officers connected with this department urging consolidation as a measure of economy and I do not expect that any further representations now made will change the views of the majority of the Council but were I to give this ordinance my approval I should be sanctioning a long delay in introducing a much needed reform and violating what I conceive to be my obligations to the tax payers of the city.

HENRY FAILING

PORTLAND November 26 1873

On taking the vote of "shall the ordinance now pass" it passed by a unanimous vote over the veto of the Mayor.

From T J Parker contractor for the Stark street sewer stating that he had completed his contract, and asked for the sum of money due him from the city stipulated for the completion of such work. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Some earth yet remained to be removed and other slight details of the work were left unfinished. The contractor had refused to do this part of the work. Pernicious Purgatives.

The brilliant idea of half a century ago that the weak and ailing could be bled blistered and salivated into a condition of health and vigor is happily exploded but violent and prolonged purgation is still to some extent in vogue. We have impostors who are daring enough to offer to the world as tonics and restoratives the most terrible cathartics imaginable. Try a single stimulating soothing restorative element. Compare the operation of one of those terrible nostrums with that of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which are combined the three great curative elements—a tonic an alterative and an aperient. The former completely paralyzes the vital forces so that nature can make no resistance to disease; the latter sustains the strength of the patient while it restores the suspended functions of the secretive organs and relieves the bowels without violence or pain. It is simply a choice between restoration and prostration.

THANKSGIVING HYMN

For summer's bloom and Autumn's blight
For bending wheat and blasted maize
For health and sickness Lord of light
And Lord of darkness hear our praise

We trace to Thee our joys and woes—
To Thee of causes still the cause—
We thank Thee that Thy hand bestows
We bless Thee that Thy love withdraws

We bring no sorrows to Thy throne
We come to Thee with no complaint
In Providence Thy will is done
And that is sacred to the saint

Here on this blest Thanksgiving night
We raise to Thee our grateful voice
For what Thou doest Lord is right
And thus believing we rejoice

A ROYAL ADVENTURE

NARROW ESCAPE OF THE QUEEN OF PORTUGAL AND HER SONS

On the afternoon of the 2d instant the Queen and her infant sons who are staying at the watering place of Cascaes were walking on the beach of Mexilhoeiro near the rocks known as the Mouth of Hell The place is full of basins, which are always filled with water The full force of the Atlantic dashes on the beach, and the waves often mount the highest rocks and in stormy weather the thunder of the breakers is heard for miles inland The young princes ran along the sands and left the Queen behind when suddenly a wave rushed among the rocks and, surrounding the princes, carried them into one of the basins worn in the sand by the action of the water The Queen, seeing the peril of her sons, ran to save them but her dress catching on a rocky point, she fell into the water, but still managed to grasp the infant Don Carlos The danger was great The ocean was agitated after a boisterous day, and in a second a roller might have washed in and carried all before it to certain destruction moreover, the water of the basin was quite deep enough to drown the two young princes Fortunately the assistant keeper of the Guia light house one Antonio da Silva saw the disaster, rushed into the water, and managed with some difficulty to bring the two princes to the shore, afterward assisting the Queen out of the water The Queen thanked the courageous light-house keeper, and said she would never forget the services he had rendered her and he replied he was sufficiently rewarded, by having been able to assist her Majesty under such perilous circumstances The Queen was carried to the palace enveloped in sheets and it was some time before she recovered from the effects of the fright Afterward she sent a special message to the King to inform him of all the particulars of the accident As soon as the letter had been read, his Majesty conferred upon the light-house man the order of the Tower and Sword The Queen also ordered her treasurer to give him $100, and the authorities will promote him to a more remunerative post.—Cor London Times

A MODEL CHINESE PROCLAMATION.

In the Peking Gazette, the official organ of the Chinese Government is published the following formal proclamation of the pacification of the Province of Yun nan to secure which over 50,000 persons were put to the sword after their capture

Lin Yueh-chao, Governor-General of Yun nan and Kwei-chow, and Tsen Yuying, Governor of Yun-nan, have reported the capture by the Imperial troops of the city of Teng yueh and other places held by the rebels, and that consequently peace now prevails throughout the province The news has caused Us the deepest satisfaction After the capture of Yun-chow, Gen Ho Yuo-tseng marched with his army to Hsiao-meng tung On the 11th of May and subsequent days, the rebels made several sorties in which they were every time defeated by our troops, a self-styled General named Ma Ying-hun being at the same time made prisoner. Following up their success, the army burst into a swamp where they killed a large number of rebels, and Hsiao Meng-tung was ours Next the army proceeded toward Teng-yueh, round about which they stormed several fortresses. The walls of the city were first undermined, and on the night of the 28th of May blown up in ten different places, the troops then swarmed in and drove out the rebels helter skelter. A leader named Ma Su-chiang and 2,000 of his men were slain with the capture of this city the province became free of rebels. We now command Lin Yueh-chao and Tseng Yu ying to exterminate the rebels and root out every trace of them They have convulsed the province since 1854, a period of 18 years, during which the people have suffered grievously at their hands Ta li Fu was captured last year and the rebel leader was slain, yet his followers had the temerity to occupy Shun-ning and other places, fighting to the death The officers under Tseng Yu ying and Lin Yueh-chao have been unanimous in their exertions against the enemy, and success followed quickly on their effort, such conduct is most praiseworthy Upon Tseng Yu-ying, who himself went to the front and by his tactics secured peace to the whole province, we confer the title of Guardian of the Heir-Apparent. We also graciously direct that the rank of Chi tu-wei, already bestowed upon himself and his heirs forever, be changed to the title of Ching-chun-tu wei Upon Governor-General Lin Yueh-chao we confer the order of the Yellow Coat

The critic of The Pall Gazette writing somewhat bitingly of Mr. Joaquin Miller's new book about the Modocs, finds it hard to believe that an old Indian accomplished this simile "The whites were as the ocean, strong and aggressive, while the redmen were as the sand silent, helpless, tossed about, run upon, and swallowed up" It certainly is rather grandiloquent, but not much more so than the talk of Santanta and Big Tree with the people after their imprisonment. Taking up a small handful of sand Santanta remarked "You see that that's all Indians! All the sand over over these hills is whites They are too many for us. It is no use our fighting them We had better be at peace, The white men can whip us if they want to" After the utterance of this bit of philosophy he sat down his audience grunted, and Big Tree arose with another rhetorical figure "You see this tree, the leaves on it are the Indians The leaves in that large forest are the white people They are too many for us If the whites were to fire off their guns once, all the Indians are dead" The assembled braves likewise grunted at this and one of them cleverly insinuated that if the whites had been able so to dispose of them they would have done it long ago instead of making treaties—and further that Santanta and Big Tree had perhaps acquired among the whites tongues not as straight as they might be This gentleman like an excellent aboriginal business man and statesman also observed that there was nothing like fighting because if they never fought they never got anything for keeping the peace We commend this specimen of pertinent eloquence to the attention of Mr Miller's sparkling critic —N Y Tribune

THE FAIR GOD —In the 'Fair God' we have we believe, the first work of General Lewis Wallace, known hitherto only as a dashing officer in the American war, treating in a solid fashion of the fate of the Aztec power of Montezuma at the hands of Herman Cortes We do not hesitate to say that 'The Fair God' is one of the most powerful historical novels that we have ever read It is a real pleasure to us to be able to write these words after the exposures which we have lately made of the absolute worthlessness of many much belauded American novels of the last six months Our impression is that 'The Fair God' must have taken General Wallace years to write The elaboration here and there is almost painful the opening, like that of most archæological novels is dull, but the scene where in the sunrise Montezuma reads his fate, the dance scene and the entry of the Spaniards to the capital are drawn in a style of which we think few living writers capable and the battles are Homeric in their grandeur. There is nothing indeed I ud in General Wallace's book except his preface Cortes and Guatamozine and the whole of the characters breathe the spirit of ancient Mexico As a romantic treatment of the history of a beaten cause 'The Fair God" is equal to 'Rienzi' —London Athenæum

Our latest mail advices from New York obviously indicate that the troubles in the money market there are far from being settled. The policy pursued by some of the members of the Clearing House in certifying checks by which there has been an accumulation of [illegible] collaterals that [illegible] and no relief but in further expansion [illegible] [illegible] of the speculations which instigated and kept up the recent panic This expansion a majority of the Clearing House banks refuse to accede to Hence the trouble still exists An exchange says The general state of business is not promising, since reduction of production on manufactures is the rule also a great decrease in the consumption of goods through forced economy while a large demand upon savings deposits is anticipated as the result of non-employment of hand reduced wages The assets of merchants and dealers will be reduced by the shrinkage of values under the rigorous policy indicated in the course of Messrs Claflin & Co who have offered their entire stock of merchandise both foreign and domestic—amounting to six million dollars—at such reduction from present values as will insure the sale of their entire stock within thirty days They state the great sacrifice will be made but during this special sale the terms of credit will be strictly thirty days with proper discount for prompt cash This means money for goods by a process which will reach the 'hard pan' possibly in solving the general reduction which must be the precursor of a resumption of specie payments

The amount of outstanding national currency at at the close of the fiscal year was $358 1,649 From this amount should be allowed a large margin for notes of all kinds that have been destroyed and lost, and that will never be presented for redemption The United States according to Treasurer Spinner has replaced one note in every seventeen and a half and the national banks only one note in sixty Some idea may be formed from this statement of the relative condition of the two kinds of currency The consequence is that many notes of the banks are so badly worn torn dirty and defaced that even experts are unable to correctly judge of their genuineness

New York papers report that New York banks, on the first day of last week made a further gain of $3 000 000 and some of them report that they hold more than the 25 per cent reserve named in the National Currency Act This in the language of a correspondent makes it quite appropriate to repeat a request that, "Now that the Comptroller has called for and received statements of all the National Banks, showing their standing before the panic will he show the country what it is still more anxious to know, their standing after the panic?" It is now announced that the Comptroller of the Currency has called on the banks for special reports of their condition at the close of business on October 13th and November 1st but what many will regret and all esteem of doubtful propriety, it is given out that those statements will not be made public Why not? Are not the public most interested in these reports and especially those of the dates now called for?

The Commerce of Cuba.

The prospect of a war with Spain it seems has led the authorities at Washington to investigate the matter of Cuban commerce in the possible event of her annexation to the United States A good idea of the subject is obtained from the actual trade as it stood last year

The imports into the United States from Cuba not including Porto Rico were

Imports—
Sugar	$58,06 138
Molasses	9 [illegible] 7 [illegible]
Melado	1 247 240
Tobacco	3 58 000
Cigars	1 78 000
Other articles	1 000 945
Total imports,	$81 066,415
Exports—
Foreign coin	$3 070 02
Foreign goods	1 250 527
Domestic cottons	7 000 000
Domestic oil	1,256 000
Domestic breadstuffs	900,000
Domestic provisions	2,500 000
Shooks.	2 600 000
	19 57 119

This gives a large balance against the United States, paid for in bills on London The exports from the United States to Cuba are greatly restrained by the illiberal laws high taxes, and by obstacles put in the way by the Government there Should annexation take place the $25 000 000 per annum now raised there for the benefit of Spain would cease and the consumption of U S goods increase to a state sufficient to bring about a balance of the trade while the production of tobacco in the islands would develop into a much larger business than at present. We merely state these facts as matters of information not holding them, however, sufficiently important to overbalance other and greater considerations which would come into the case and militate against the acquisition of Cuba by the means proposed.

English Wheat Market.

From J E Beerbohm's London Circular we learn that the French wheat markets continued to improve Millers in the central districts of France had allowed their stocks to run very low and would shortly be obliged to buy more freely as the resources of their own localities were rather exhausted The price of eight marks flour was 1f ₩ sack dearer for delivery in the first four months of 1874 The Marseilles market showed some signs of improvement The shipments from Odessa remained on a moderate scale From the Sea of Azof the shipments were expected to be moderate during the whole of the present cereal year, The daily arrivals at Odessa were reported to be only 1,000 to 3,000 chetwerts instead of 25,000 to 30,000 as had been anticipated and a large portion of the grain arriving was damp Prices were improving in the Rhenish markets also in Southern Germany and Austro-Hungary An advance was also noted at Berlin and Hamburg Prices were creeping up in Belgium and in Holland the wheat trade was better Several wheat cargoes had been diverted from the British coast to the continent and the tendency of the English market favored better prices which late telegrams received here confirm

The Erie Canal is reported closed by ice and inland navigation is temporarily if not permanently suspended Boats laden with various kinds of produce principally wheat have been caught between Albany and Buffalo This may seriously affect the supply of breadstuffs at tide water and with lessened exports from the Atlantic side It is quite likely that European prices would be the turn dearer and decidedly in our favor

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market is very much improved in tone since our last review and holders feel more cheerful over the prospect Advices from San Francisco note an advancing tendency and in sympathy therewith ours is now fairly quotable at $ per cental at which figures several lots have changed hands The receipts to-day have been light

FLOUR—Our market exhibits considerable activity as the season progresses and it is from the interior reports nearly all our State mills are running on full time Prices have been quite firm for several days at $ [illegible] for best brands $ [illegible] for outside and country brands of extra and $4 [illegible] for superfine The shipments to San Francisco continue quite active and a good home trade is realized

OATS—The very light shipments and receipts experienced so far during the season leads to the inference that very large quantities of this cereal are yet in the hands of producers held for a higher figure Our local trade at present is moderately active at 4 cents per bushel as jobbers paying prices There are now but slight indications of an early advance though should the attention now bestowed on wheat give way oats may come more into favor

BARLEY We notice in our exchanges from San Francisco that the large surplus in California is now well out of the first hands large shipments having been made to South America and to New York and Liverpool Our own market is very quiet though all good lots offering are freely taken at current rates We quote common at $1 [illegible] good $1 40 to best at $1 45 ₩ 100 lbs

FEED The supply in this market is kept up to full and with some shipping and an active home demand prices are well sustained We quote bran at $1 [illegible] in jobbing lots chopped [illegible] shorts $[illegible]

HAY—The receipts of the past few days have been light and our quotations [illegible] $11 [illegible] baled and $1[illegible] for loose timothy are firm

POTATOES—The supply from down the river and adjacent farms is quite adequate to the demand which is almost entirely confined to the home trade no call for shipping existing The best are sold at 50 cents ₩ bushel while inferior sorts are quite dull at 25a40 cents

ONIONS—With light receipts our market is firm at 2 cents ₩ lb The shipments are light as our market is well supplied and San Francisco prices flat

APPLES—Like many other articles of produce for which Oregon has found a ready market in San Francisco apples are now far in excess of the regular demand and under present rates of transportation shippers find but little encouragement Our quotations are for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of fruit per box and which choice varieties may be packed to demand above ₩ box

BACON The supply of side meat is well kept up though hardly as full as a fortnight [illegible] selling fair sale at 10½a11 cents ₩ lb [illegible] quite active for Oregon cured hams and shoulders which are much scarcer Quotations are furnished at 10a12c ₩ lb for shoulders and 15c for hams We are not exporting at all but considerable imports arrive by each steamer from California a fact discreditable to the enterprise and economy of our people

LARD The market is in full supply except of importations The call for fresh Oregon lard has been quite lively at 9a10c in kegs and 12c in tins

BUTTER—Advices from San Francisco indicate a very flat market for Oregon butter there and shippers express discouragement at the prospect Our market is well supplied with common butter which can be readily bought at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] styles of packages The best for family use, however is not plentiful and choice roll is in demand at 30a40c ₩ lb while prime butter in firkins is plentifully well known brands commands 30c

CHEESE The local trade is well supplied by four or five dairies in our State and importations from California We quote [illegible] [illegible] at 16 [illegible] [illegible] prices 14a

DRIED FRUITS The market is well stocked with all kinds of dried fruits and owing to the fact that California is now more plentifully supplied the demand from there has fallen off [illegible] Eastern shipments is dull at [illegible] cents ₩ lb Our market is quoted at [illegible] cents Dried [illegible] [illegible]

POULTRY—The receipts of the week for some [illegible] large and owing to the temporary demand the local trade is lively though prices seem less inclined to advance than usual on such occasions We quote best [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Turkeys [illegible]

EGGS. The receipts [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] weaker than at our last review [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at [illegible] cents [illegible] [illegible] change that week

BEEF CATTLE [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] prices [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] figures as the [illegible] [illegible] cattle that will [illegible]

MUTTON SHEEP [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] rates though [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] furnished at $ [illegible]

DRESSED HOGS W [illegible] [illegible] activity in the market considering the season for the approach of the packing season would be [illegible] taken at 5a5½ cents ₩ lb

HIDES—The advices from the East indicating a suspension of many large factories prices here for raw materials have shown more weakness though no positive decline has taken place choice lots of dry still commanding 1[illegible] cents ₩ lb green salted [illegible] cents and green 5a6 cents

WOOL—The very great disturbance of the manufacturing interests in the Eastern States by the late panic seems to have had its influence for the raw material as well But few offers to buy are now made in our market except to supply immediate wants of our State mills prices generally ruling at 20a25 cents ₩ lb

MEDICAL

TO THE UNFORTUNATE NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are laboring under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post office or through Wells, Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates, deceive the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, were tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus certificates pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco Postoffice Box 1 957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN jy16dp
